

Analyze Petabytes of File Data

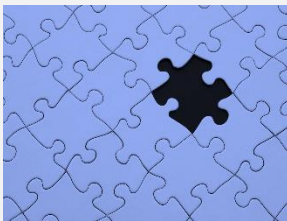

DefendX Vision

Increase Insights, Decrease Costs

Every business decision is guided by the numbers. From new product development to next year's sales forecast, you depend on the numbers to give you the insight you need for solid decision-making. And the numbers you have - or don't have - can be the difference between failure and success. It's no different with file data analysis software.

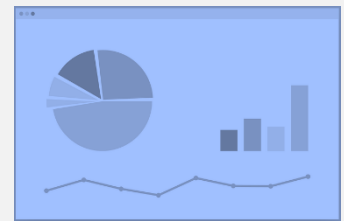

Proven Enterprise Solution Includes:

In-depth reports to easily focus on what's important

Allocate costs, generate bills, and create financial models

Ability to spot patterns across platforms and data storage types

Our Unique Approach to Help You

Through granular and flexible reporting, we give you the details you need to make profitable decisions about your unstructured file data management strategy. The software assists with file data quota management, file blocking, file tiering, and even helps you understand when you might need to add additional storage.
